The Worldwide Importance of Adventist Education

Ellen G. White states in her writings, " True education means more than the pursual of a certain course of study. It means more than a preparation for the life that now is. It has to do with the whole being, and with the whole period of existence possible to man. It is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come."

(Education, 13) How do you feel about Adventist Education? Did you participate in Adventist Education? Do your children attend an Adventist institution? Today we are looking at findings on this subject.

COVID-19 has been impacting all of us. You may feel blessed because you can work from home, maybe you feel discouraged or even overwhelmed by the challenges that are coming your way, or maybe you feel sadness due to the loss of a loved one. While we face different situations, let's remember God's promise for us in Isaiah 41:10 (NLT): "Don't be afraid, for I am with you. Don't be discouraged, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you. I will hold you up with my victorious right hand."

As the GC building is currently reopening in phases, ASTR is partially still telenetworking and available by email.

ASTR is now also publishing a departmental newsletter . If you would like to receive this newsletter, please sign up here.

This Research Newsletter is issued by the General Conference Office of Archives, Statistics, and Research to provide Seventh-day Adventist leaders, pastors, researchers, and laypeople with high-quality research from the General Conference archives.
